JOE HICKS HELD IN TWO STATES

He is the Man Who Went With Fisher to Chief of Police.

A search extending over two States was begun by the police Tuesday in an effort to locate Joe Hicks, companion of Ira W. Fisher. Hicks is the man who accompanied Fisher to the office of Chief of Police Booker in Birmingham, when Fisher made his weird but quickly discredited accusation of the murder of Mary Phagan against J. C. Shirley, of No. 809 Marietta street, Atlanta.

Chief of Detectives Lanford and Charles J. Graham, attorney for Shirley, believe that they will have disclosed the deep lay plot against Shirley, if such a plot actually had existed, when they have traced Hicks to talk and when they have traced Fisher to a safe condition. These were made yesterday that two prominent Atlantans might be arrested if any hints were found for belief in the plot theory. Later it was said that a searching investigation was being made of the possibility that the still higher up was the moving spirit in a diabolical scheme to fasten the crime on an innocent man.

Graham was undisturbed Tuesday as to whether Fisher's sensational story was merely the vapors of a disordered and crazy intellect or the outcropping of a genuine conspiracy that had gone wrong through the inability of Fisher to tell a convincing story. "I think we will know all when we find this man Hicks, who Fisher says was his constant companion in Parkville, and later in Birmingham," said Graham. "Hicks played a mysterious part in the affair. Fisher himself admitted that Hicks did most of the talking when they went to the office of Chief Booker. Hicks appears to have told most of the story and Fisher merely corroborated it."

"There also is the possibility that Hicks suggested the story to Fisher from day to day, and finally built up in Fisher's mind the structure of the ridiculous tale he has told in Birmingham and here in Atlanta, a story which was startling enough as a simple and direct accusation, but which broke down the instant the man was forced to give any alleged details."

"We are working on several possibilities. One is that there was a conspiracy against Shirley. If there was such a plot it may have been engineered along by Fisher. Hicks may have been a party to it. In this case it was simple blackmail."

"There also is the possibility that Fisher or Fisher and Hicks were merely tools in a conspiracy and that the real conspirators are men high up in the state. It is a serious situation as to whether this charge can be made to stand in view of the fact that as far as is known Fisher made no serious charges against Shirley. Lawyers in general have expressed themselves as 'believing' that no charge beyond slander can be proved."

BATTLE OF NEW FRANK TRIAL

HOTTEST FIRE PERIL; INCENDIARY HURLED

Strikers Resent Police Interference

OWNER LAYS BLAZE TO GRUDGE

Expelled Tenant Accused of Firing Building--Guests Flee From Williams House.

Publishing sensational charges of arson made by Jim Brown, who owns the damaged building at Forsyth and Walton streets, detective Wednesday began a thorough probe of the fire which did between $2,000 and $3,000 damage.

Brown's soda fountain, Williams house No. 2, and the Southern Dry company, all were damaged and the nearly cost the life of Dr. G. H. Ford, a dentist, who was dragged under the building from his home over the side.

Brown charges that the man he accused of firing the building to satisfy a grudge because he had been expelled from the place a week ago for non-payment of rent. Detectives have not yet been able to find any circumstances that connect the accused man with the fire, but they remain thoroughly to investigate Brown's accusation.

When the fire was discovered at 1 o'clock Wednesday morning, the interior of the house was ablaze, and for a time flames forced the entire block bounded by Forsyth, Marietta and Walton streets, was doomed. The flames spread up between the walls and invaded the offices and living rooms of Dr. G. Ford, above the cafe, destroying most of his office equipment. Dr. Ford was found in bed, unconscious, by firemen who broke the windows. He was carried to the ground, where Dr. G. H. Hall, city physician, worked over him for nearly half an hour before he regained consciousness.

Half a hundred guests of the Williams house No. 2, who, although the fire, were aroused by the smoke, and fled into the street in their night clothing. Only slight damage was done to the hotel, the flames preventing the flames from spreading into the building.

The furniture and a quantity of clothing in the offices of the Southern Dry Company, which is between the cafe and the hotel, were badly damaged by the smoke.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The romance of a painting duel in which two young girl students of the Art Institute are to each paint the picture of the man they both love, the best picture to win the man as a life partner, became known to-day.

"You see, he can't decide between us," one of the girls declared to-day. "We are both the best of friends and the man says he is perfectly contented to decide the question this way."

BEAVERS TO HOLD MEN AT BAY

Elias Says Situation Is Under Control--Mayor Confers With Chief.

With strikers at the Fulton Bag and Cotton Mills bitterly resentful of police interference, Chief James L. Beavers said Wednesday his men would not be withdrawn.

Oscar Elias, president of the mills, asserted that all danger of any serious trouble from the striking employees of the mill was passed. He said that a number of employees who were out Tuesday, when the attitude of a large number of strikers was very threatening, had returned to work Wednesday and that he expected all disturbances to gradually subside.

A very odd fact in connection with the strike is that most of the employees who are out are women. It is rare when they predominate in such a movement. Mr. Elias, who is handling the situation with a firm hand without even an intimation of a concession to the dissatisfied employees, said the women were out through fear. He said that some of the women who had gone out were afraid to return to work because of threats from men who are leading the strike.

Different Stories.
The story the strikers tell of conditions out at the mill is quite different from the views expressed by the mill owners. While the mill officials say they are only about 40 out Wednesday, the strikers claim that there are about 150.

The employees assert that the discontent and final protest in the form of a strike is due to general bad and oppressive conditions, and that there will be no permanent settlement of the differences until the mill authorities assume a different attitude to their employees.

Puller investigations into the complaints made by a delegation to Mayor James G. Woodward Tuesday, which the strikers protested that the city police were endeavoring to intimidate them and urged the Mayor to see that they got a square deal and that the extra policemen be withdrawn from the mill section, will be heard in Recorder Browder's court Wednesday.

Employees Arrested.
Cases have been made against strikers against them. L. L. Wood, W. E. Fleming and Will Tulin. They are charged with being disorderly around the mill and were arrested on complaint of Oscar Elias.

Wood and Fleming were released Tuesday with copies of the charges against them. Tulin was still in the station Wednesday. The complaint made by a delegation to Mayor James G. Hen's Dying Cackle In His Wooden Leg Fatal to Roost Thief

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—When a man wears a cork leg which begins to cackle, Policeman VonMittelsworth thinks nothing at all of looking into the matter, and that is why "Boi" Butcher is today occupying cell No. 5 in the Woodlawn House.

Mrs. James Davidson, of No. 5804 Wabash avenue, told him she heard big gongs-on in her bathroom. Standing in the back of the coop and making valiant efforts to resemble a Rhode Island Red was "Boi". There was not a sign of any of the birds.

It was at this point that a weak cackle proceeded from Butcher's cork leg. The leg was unfastened and found to be hollow. Three chickens, two dead and one taking the count of nine, were pulled forth.

The late Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, formerly of Alabama, and his widow, now on trial as his murderer. Below are Dorothy Ainsworth, the admiral's stepdaughter, and the Eaton farm home at Assinippi, Mass.

The act which caused the charges to be preferred is alleged to have been committed April 23, last, when Patrolman Wood, who lived next door to Mrs. Southard on Moreland avenue near Fifth street, is supposed to have dug a ditch which drained the water from his yard into Mrs. Southard's yard. The woman says she remonstrated with the policeman and he placed her under arrest, pinning her up when she refused to go with him and carrying her to the street where he held her until he paired arrested.

Mrs. Southard says her 12-year-old only was dangerously ill with the measles at this time, and claims Wood refused to let her go into her house to see that it was being cared for while she was under arrest.

Miss Mabel Hardeman, who lives in the same neighborhood, told the commission that she fainted when she heard the screams of Mrs. Southard as she was being "dragged" to the patrol wagon.

The Police Board declined the charges after listening to a bitter argument by "Colonel Lewis" Thomas, ex-councilman, a member of a distinguished family, who courted her 50 years ago.

Several members of the board wanted to dismiss the charges and completely exonerate Wood, but Chairman Charles Mason declared he was in favor of the charges being dismissed after Wood was reprimanded by Chief Beavers. This was agreed to, and the finding was unanimous.

In the prosecution of Wood, Attorney Leonard Brown, associated counsel by Colonel Lewis Thomas, charged Chief Beavers with shielding Wood. Chief Beavers denied the charge.

STRUGGLE BETWEEN CLAIM OF DEFENSE OF PREJUDICE OF JURORS

Vanquished by the verdict in their first prolonged battle for the life of Leo M. Frank, the lawyers for the convicted man renewed the bitterly contested struggle Wednesday morning before Judge L. S. Roan in the State Library, where they advanced their reasons for insisting that a new trial should be given their client.

Solicitor Dorsey, the man determined that he was during the four weeks in which he was wearing the net of evidence about the man accused of the murder of Mary Phagan, was present to fight every move of the veteran attorneys for the defense.

Opinion was pretty well divided before the hearing began as to whether Judge Roan would accede to the demand for a new trial. Many persons who agreed that the verdict of guilty was a just one were convinced that a new trial would have to be granted on the strong evidence of prejudice and bias which has been gathered against Jurors Henkle and Johanning.

About as many believed that it would be granted on general principles of law involved. Still others had assured themselves from a close investigation of the conflicting contentions of the Solicitor and the lawyers for the defense that there would be no course open to Judge Roan but the overruling of the motion and a denial of a new trial.

In the event that a new trial is denied, Frank's attorneys will immediately carry the case up to the Supreme Court of the State for review and have intimated that their fight will not stop there if the higher court rules against them.

The effect that the weird story told by Mrs. W. Fisher will have upon the outcome of the motion is regarded as most unlikely that they even will be mentioned either by the Solicitor or counsel for the defense, or given consideration by Judge Roan.

Dorsey at Office Early.
The hearing was not in progress in Judge Roan's courtroom on the first floor of the old City Hall, Pryor and Hunter streets, at 3 o'clock Wednesday morning, but was transferred to the State Library, Solicitor Dorsey left his home early and put the finishing touches on his preparations in his office across the street from the courthouse. Attorney Roan and Arnold also had a brief conference before the hearing and then announced themselves ready to proceed.

One of the main contentions of the defense was that at least two of the jurors who decided the fate of Frank were prejudiced against him. A. H. Henkle and Marcellus Johanning--had decided that Frank was guilty before they were called upon the jury or had heard the evidence presented.

Frank's lawyers also maintained that the jurors were intimidated, or at least unduly influenced, by the demonstrations that were made during the trial. The crowds unannouncedly were hostile to the defendant, they argued, and the jurors could not help but notice this.

That there was disorder in the courtroom which it was hardly possible to suppress was argued from a conversation between Judge Roan and Deputy Sheriff Pleasant Miller. The Judge was quoted by Frank's lawyers as saying during one of the many distractions: "Can't we have order in this courtroom?"

Deputy Miller is alleged to have replied: "We can't have order, your honor, without clearing the courtroom."

FRANK LAWYERS ATTACK CONLEY'S STORY WOMEN JOIN IN STRIKE OF MILL EMPLOYEES

FOR MADE FOR 1,000 TO JOIN

Union Organized Among Strikers.
Police Propose Only to Preserve Order.

The strike at the Fulton Bag and Cotton Mills grew more serious Wednesday when 28 women employed in the press room of the bag department walked out through sympathy with the striking weavers. It was reported among employees around the mill that several hundred operators in the bag department would quit Wednesday afternoon.

Following an effort to organize the strikers into a union Tuesday afternoon efforts were being made Wednesday to get all of the 1,000 operators in the factory to affiliate with the movement for better conditions. The strikers also claim that 200 men signed up as members of a union at a meeting on Central avenue Tuesday afternoon.

So far there has been little concerted action among the strikers. Each person has spoken and acted for himself. A committee went before Governor Elias, president of the company, Tuesday to state their complaints.

Asked Reinstatement.
"They asked me to restate an employee named Fowler, who struck me," said one of the strikers, "and I told them we could not consider such a demand and the interview was ended."

"We have 10 per cent more employees in the weaving department today than yesterday. I believe that all who do not want to go back to work will be replaced by new employees by the end of the week."

"The trouble is all caused by a few cowards who are leading the others."

After the trial of three of the strikers Wednesday a committee of them made charges before Chief Beavers that G. A. Johnson, general manager of the mills, had used profanity before women employees. Chief Beavers ordered Captain Mayo to notify Mr. Johnson to appear before Recorder Beavers to answer the charges Thursday.

Bond for Accused Striker.
The strikers were shut out another time. Will Tumbler, a striker who was found over by Recorder Broyles under a $500 bond for interfering with the laborers, was released from jail when his friends gave the bond. He was congratulated by many women and men when he returned to the mill village just as the employees were on their way home for the mid-day meal.

To gain additional strength, leaders of the strikers said that plans were being arranged to secure a brass band and have a parade through the village Wednesday afternoon. No one would admit being an active participant in making these plans, all of them admitting that they feared arrest.

Overcoats Go Back To Moth Balls as Warm Days Return

The weather man made good on his prediction for warmer weather Wednesday, and in his forecast for tonight and Thursday he holds out even more hope for those who have been trying to be happy without an overcoat.

Showers are booked for to-night or tomorrow. The temperature is due to rise all day and start the good work again early to-morrow morning.

Starting with a low mark of 42 degrees above zero at 6 o'clock, the mercury rose steadily Wednesday, standing at 48 at 8 o'clock, 58 at 10 o'clock, 58 at 12 o'clock, and about 59 at 1 o'clock. By 2 o'clock the official thermometers wavered between 61 and 74, and then the mercury began to descend as night came on.

Forecast man Herriman says, however, it will not get as low as it did last night.

Militants Now Must Kill or Go Backward, Says Dr. Anna Shaw

BALTIMORE, Oct. 22.—Mrs. Frank Shaw and other militants of England have reached a point where they will either have to take human life in the course of their campaign of militancy, or take a backward course, according to Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National American Association for Suffrage.

In her opinion, the militants will have to kill or take the back track if they could and will, and at the same time "have their faces," said the doctor.

Dr. Shaw opposed the coming of Mrs. Frank Shaw to this country at this time, "because we have on our hands nine campaigns, any one of which is of more importance to the cause of woman suffrage in the world than the campaign of Mrs. Pankhurst in England," she said.

Europe to Flood U. S. With Goods--Schwab

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—European merchants are looking over the new American tariff bill and now are making plans for an invasion of the United States with their goods, according to Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel Company, who returned from Europe.

"Everywhere throughout Europe," said Schwab, "the merchants are preparing to ship heavy consignments of their products to America. It will take some time before the invasion is well under way, but it surely will come."

Opera Reservation Received From India

From far-off India has come the first hotel reservation for grand opera work in Atlanta.

Manager A. B. Egan, of the Georgian Terrace, on Wednesday had a letter from Mrs. Ellabhai Wainthorpe, a Hindu, asking that a "room and bath" be held for her for that week.

Mrs. Egan, who resides in Thomasville, Ga., stated that she would pass through Atlanta on route to her home at that time. Manager Egan declared this request to be a record-breaker.

Sweethearts' Photos In Watches Barred

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Pictures of wives, sweethearts, mothers or babies on the crystals of watches carried by engineers, conductors and other employees of the Illinois Central Railroad are no longer permitted.

Officials of the road handed down an order today against them, saying that these faces on the watch crystals distracted the attention of the employees from their duties.

28 Ex-City Officials Are Indicted by Probe

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Oct. 22.—Twenty-eight officials, including ex-mayors, ex-aldermen, ex-city council members, and ex-officers of the city of St. Louis, were indicted by a grand jury here today as a result of a probe of St. Louis municipal affairs.

Most of the indictments charged conspiracy to defraud the city of large sums of money, estimated at $100,000.

ALBURN OUT BLAME ON WOMEN

On Eve of Trial; Slayer's Attorney
Compares Mrs. King With Cleopatra.

MACON, Oct. 22.—When Nick Wilburn, a six-foot 25-year-old farmer, is placed on trial for his life at 10 o'clock in the morning, he will be charged with the murder of Mrs. King, his victim's wife.

"I am going to show the jury," declares Attorney John R. Cooper, "that just as Cleopatra fascinated so great a man as Anthony and caused him to throw the world away, so did this woman, the wife of another man, attract and dominate a guileless and respectable farm boy."

It will be further pleaded that Mrs. King had threatened Wilburn with the loss of his own life if he did not kill James King, Attorney Cooper's only hope, as he frankly confesses, is to save Wilburn's neck.

"If the jury will recommend him to mercy I will be satisfied and Wilburn ought to be," said the attorney.

Attorney W. D. McNeil, representing Mrs. King, declares that he will acquit the woman.

"She was absolutely terrified by a brutal farmer for whom she at one time had an affection, unlawful though it was," he says, "and only one of the children has been to see her since her confinement in the Jones County jail."

RIO JANEIRO, BRAZIL, Oct. 22.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, to-day was taken for an automobile ride and later inspected the most important of the public buildings. The colonel expressed his pleasure at everything he saw, but could not completely hide his intention to get into the untamed jungles.

He questioned his companion on the comparative wildness of the South American and African jungles. He will take many trophies back to the United States and will write a book on his experiences.

ROSSER, FRANK'S ATTORNEY, AND JUDGE ROAN ON WAY TO COURT

Judge L. S. Roan.

Luther Z. Rosser.

25 CENTS RATE FIXED FOR STONE MOUNTAIN

The Railroad Commission has refused in part and granted in part the petition of the Georgia Railway and Power Company, fixing its passenger and freight rates over its new Stone Mountain line.

The rate to Decatur, which is 16 cents on the express cars, is approved, but the rate to Stone Mountain is fixed at 25 cents rather than 25, the rate fixed by the company in its petition.

The freight rates as proposed for are granted, which makes them the same as four class rates on the railroad. The commission also changed the proposed rates to other points along the line, but in doing this it readjusted the proposed rate zones.

As finally granted, the rates authorized are as follows: From Atlanta to Decatur, 16 cents; to Scottsdale, 18 cents; to Clarkston, 18 cents; to Mount Zion, 20 cents; and to Stone Mountain, 25 cents.

The petition for its commutation rates was dismissed, the commission holding that it had no authority to reduce other than to say what the maximum rate shall be. Any rate less than the maximum rate named by the commission may be adjusted at the road's discretion.

The commission also declined to permit the road to charge fares without providing for some baggage accommodation. In addition, baggage in addition to passenger service will be permitted a reasonable extent, but the baggage with each fare shall not exceed 100 pounds without extra compensation.

The petition originally filed by the power company was bitterly fought by the residents along the line and the result, it is highly gratifying to them. The order likely will be accepted by the company without protest, but as experimental for six months only.

COLD AFTER STORM.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Cold after weather prevailed over the Middle West today following yesterday's general snowstorm. Reports of storm damage from all parts of the country were numerous today.

STORY OF IMMORALITY CENTER OF STRUGGLE IN REHEARING BATTLE

The testimony of Jim Conley, which led to the bitterest fight in the trial of Leo M. Frank, again was the bone of acrimonious contention at the hearing for a new trial before Judge L. S. Roan Wednesday.

That the defense is determined to make a desperate fight for a new trial because the revolting story told by the negro of Frank's alleged immorality was allowed to get in the record and never was expunged was made evident when Attorneys Rosser and Arnold marshaled before the judge a series of reasons for another trial, all based on the fact that the testimony was allowed to go before the jury during the trial and again while the arguments were in progress.

Fighting back savagely at every move of Frank's lawyers, disputing every doubtful point with the same insistence and determination that marked his conduct of the Phagan murder trial and remaining undisturbed by the caustic remarks of Arnold or the more vigorous attacks of Rosser, Solicitor Dorsey presented an obstinate figure throughout the day's hearing, which was but preliminary to the struggle which will follow when the actual arguments are begun.

The first day was devoted to a review of early portion of the defense's 115 reasons for a new trial.

Deadlock Soon Comes

So insistent was the Solicitor that every reason be given in conformity to the testimony and evidence as he interpreted it that the hearing had not progressed far when the noon recess was taken. The Solicitor and Attorney Arnold had endeavored to come to an agreement on the grounds for the new trial day before, but they became deadlocked almost on the first reason submitted by the defense and on this account it was decided to take the entire motion with the 115 reasons before Judge Roan for his adjudication.

Rosser repeatedly charged Dorsey with quibbling, splitting hairs and on one occasion intimated that the Solicitor was seeking to hang a man "on the dotting of an 'i' or the crossing of a 't'."

The hearing had not progressed to the fifteenth of the 115 reasons by the end of the forenoon hearing. No mention had yet been made of the charges of bias and prejudice against Jurors Henkel and Johnsen. The early reasons had to do with errors which the defense had committed, according to the contentions of the defense, in letting in certain testimony of Detectives Black and Barnes and New Lee and keeping out a part of that of Black.

Conley's testimony became the subject of heated discussion immediately on the reading of the tenth reason of the defense. In this it was argued that the court had been in error in denying the motion of the defense to strike out all of Conley's testimony in regard to the alleged perversion of the defendant on the ground that it was immaterial, irrelevant, illegal and highly prejudicial to Frank.

The Solicitor was insistent with his objection to this being one of the grounds for the arguing of a new trial. He contended that this motion by the defense had not been made at the time the evidence was put in.

Arnold retorted that the objection was put in and that the records showed it. The Solicitor contended that the motion had been made, but called attention to the fact that this action had not been taken by Frank's lawyers until after Conley had been cross-examined by Rosser a day and a half.

Visitors Rule's Spirit.
Conley's testimony cropped up again in the twelfth reason. Here it was maintained that, after Judge Roan had ruled that no specific acts of immorality on the part of Frank should be testified to, Solicitor Dorsey merely changed the wording of his questions and openly violated the spirit of the court's ruling.

Dorsey first had asked Conley about Frank's conduct with women at the factory and when this was ruled out he asked, instead, what Conley did when women came to the factory. Conley replied that he watched at the door while the women went to Frank's office. This, according to the foundations of the defense, involved Frank exactly as much as the perversion question and answer would have done.

Dorsey argued that asking Conley about his own movements at the factory did not violate the judge's ruling in regard to the specific acts of Frank. With slight revision, the remark was permitted to stand.

The court was charged with error again because of the overruling of the motion of the defense that all of Conley's testimony bearing on the alleged immorality of Frank be stricken from the records as irrelevant, immaterial and highly prejudicial to the defendant in that it disgraced him before the jurors and convicted him in their eyes, not because he was guilty of murder, but because he believed him guilty of perversion and depravity.

The indications Wednesday were that the review of the reasons would be successful in securing a new trial.

Section 10 and 11 deal with the same subject except that the use was in narrative form and the other in question and answer. Both were certified to by Judge Roan after the review had been made.

"Don't you think you had better be careful of the reasons you would

Dorsey Scores a Point.

The Solicitor was instant with his objection to this being one of the grounds for the arguing of a new trial. He contended that this motion by the defense had not been made at that; the cross-examination up to the time the motion was made never had touched on the subject of perjury; and this also was incorporated in the reason, the Solicitor having the privilege of investigating the records of the question.

Sections 16 and 31 dealt with the

FLASHLIGHT AT POLICE STATION OF PRINCIPALS IN NEW FRANK MYSTERY

FLASHLIGHT AT POLICE STATION OF PRINCIPALS IN NEW FRANK MYSTERY

J. C. Shirley, the merchant named by Fisher as Mary Phagan's alibi.

ferred against him because all of his charges were verbal.

"Fisher will be arraigned before Justice of the Peace Pickett, probably Wednesday."

Grand Jury Called On.

That the Fulton County Grand Jury will be asked to investigate the origin of the accusations was the statement made by Graham.

This action was decided upon following a lengthy conference between Shirley, Graham and Chief of Detectives Lanford. Its purpose will be to determine whether Fisher's story was the result of a conspiracy against Shirley or simply the result of a crank-crazed mind.

A right probe to the foundation of the story will be asked, persons named by Fisher as his associates since his departure from Atlanta will be questioned, especially those who he had dealings with prior to the time he appeared before Chief of Police Bodeker in Birmingham and made his startling statements.

If the investigation shows that there had been a hand in the accusations against the furniture dealer, they will be prosecuted together with Fisher in a conspiracy charge. Many believe that this will prove the fact.

Attorney Graham stated that he would have a conference with Solicitor Dorney later in the day and an early date for the grand jury probe would be fixed.

Shirley said that he either would get Fisher in the asylum or in the penitentiary. He will bring his books to the police Tuesday to show a complete alibi. Lanford has initiated an investigation of the charges of conspiracy and will make arrests at once if he finds them substantiated.

One of the men named in the alleged conspiracy have been identified with the "Frank case." The other one is known to have been with Fisher in Birmingham.

It was pointed out by Chief Lanford Tuesday that were Fisher's story true in every particular, there is nothing in it to connect Shirley with the murder of Mary Phagan. The name Fisher said Shirley mentioned as that of the girl he was in love with was Helene. Shirley asserted that he never even knew Mary Phagan by sight.

Fisher Locked Up.

Fisher was put under arrest at the police station on the charge of criminal libel, the complaint being filed by Russell Shirley, a brother of J. C. Shirley. Short shortly was given him after he had requested an alibi Monday night in the presence of the man he accused.

The warrant had already been made out, and as soon as it became apparent that Fisher, said by some to be an irresponsible drunkard, was going to go to jail by his story, Chief of Detectives Lanford gave the papers to Detective John W. Harman and Fisher was locked up.

Fisher underwent a searching examination that lasted for three hours. He detailed story after story, but he was taken to the police station by Chief Lanford. Little effort was made at this time to get him to tell the truth. He was told that the purpose behind his arrest was to get him to tell the truth. He was told that if he refused to tell the truth, he would be kept in jail for a long time.

Chief Lanford and Detectives Starnes and Coker then put Fisher under a severe questioning and he then was taken to the police station to tell several of the police. While he was gone, Shirley, at the request of Chief Lanford, came to the police station. Shirley went into the chief's office. As soon as Fisher came back he was a bundle of nerves, and was shaking all over. He was told that he was being taken to the police station for a hearing. He was told that he was being taken to the police station for a hearing. He was told that he was being taken to the police station for a hearing.

Fisher was taken back for an instant, but recovered himself at once. He was placed in a chair near the chief and the questioning was resumed. Chief Lanford, Charles J. Graham, attorney for Shirley; Russell Shirley and the accused man himself took turns in firing questions at the man who had been taken from a nervous movement.

He made a frequent straining of his face on which there was a four day growth of beard, he showed no signs that he was affected by the unusual position in which he found himself.

Shirley Laid Held.

Because of the positive statements outlined in the first announcement of Fisher's story and the testimony charged against Shirley that he was implicated in the words, some possibility that Chief Shirley might be held at the police station until the story was investigated.

Some glaring improbabilities and conflicts, however, crept into the man's narrative that Chief Lanford declared that he couldn't think of making Shirley the hero of the "Frank case" story, which he branded as manifestly impossible.

The trip to No. 12 Bellwood avenue developed one of the reasons for disbelieving Fisher's statement. Mrs. William Holloway lives here. Fisher said that he went in a wagon with Shirley to deliver a dresser.

Shirley and Fisher drove up to the house Monday night, Mrs. Holloway declared that Fisher and Shirley never had delivered anything there and that she had not bought a dresser for years. This story she told did not square with the statement that Fisher said that he had delivered a dresser to the house on Monday night.

Another of his statements which she made was that he had seen the crowd on the street about 2 1/2 o'clock. Mrs. Lella A. Dillard, vice president of the Georgia Association of Women, who lives at 1212 North Avenue, said that she was waiting about 2 1/2 o'clock. All the other noon or while he and Shirley, according to his story, were driving across Peachtree street and down Dewar street and then to the Union Station. He said that he did not see a crowd on the streets at all other than would naturally be on any Saturday afternoon.

The progress of his wagon never was stopped at any time as was driving from one place to another. It is claimed that this alone brands his story as ridiculous as there were large crowds on the street.

Still another discrepancy which he made in his story was that he first said that he met J. W. Burke, agent for Attorney Luther Homer on Friday night in Birmingham. Before the detective he declared that the first time he saw Burke was last Saturday night when Burke met him on the street and brought him to Atlanta. Burke also is declared to have said that he met Fisher first on Friday night.

Burke Did Talking.

Fisher was questioned very closely about who had talked to him in Luther Homer's office. He said that Homer said Reuben Arnold had not talked to him at all, but that Burke had done most of the examination.

"They told me up there that I could have a hard time down here if the detective got hold of me," he nervously told Lanford.

Fisher gave all of his replies in a calm, almost disinterested voice. When he charged Shirley with riding in the pencil factory to meet Mary Phagan he held his hand crampingly toward Shirley to suit the other side of a table.

"You did it, you now you did it," he said to Shirley.

"You lie, you thank, you know I will see you," he roared at Shirley, and he started from his chair in a menacing manner. Detective grabbed Shirley and averted a fight.

"I never knew where he was seated when Shirley was brought to headquarters to face his accuser. Fisher was confined and Fisher was ordered to tell his story in the furniture store's presence.

"The Saturday of the murder Shirley and I drove down to Broad and Hurley streets in his wagon. We delivered a bureau to a Mrs. Holloway on Bellwood avenue. We stood near the corner and Shirley said he wanted me to hold the horse while he went to the pencil factory where he had a date, he said, with 'Hattie,' the girl name for Mary Phagan." Fisher paused and Shirley was on his feet in a moment.

Called 'Liar and Bum.'

"You're a liar and I'll prove it," he roared, lunging at Shirley, his eyes lighting up with a dangerous gleam. "Why don't you tell the truth and quit lying," Shirley, half mad with rage, his almost crazed face, into his chair by Charles Graham, his hand.

Fisher was told to continue.

"I walked out on hour and a half for Shirley," started the man again, his eyes lighting up with a dangerous gleam. "Why don't you tell the truth and quit lying," Shirley, half mad with rage, his almost crazed face, into his chair by Charles Graham, his hand.

Fisher again paused, and looking at Shirley, said: "I don't know the first time, said."

Fisher was told to continue.

"I walked out on hour and a half for Shirley," started the man again, his eyes lighting up with a dangerous gleam. "Why don't you tell the truth and quit lying," Shirley, half mad with rage, his almost crazed face, into his chair by Charles Graham, his hand.

NEW METHODS IN CITY SANITARY WORK URGED

Report Points Out Defects in Present System—No Individual Blamed.

That the report of the who made a survey of health conditions in Atlanta last year contains certain recommendations for changes in the work of the Health Department. These recommendations, however, do not place the blame on any individual, but rather point out the need for a more efficient system.

Improvements Urged. The report, which was made by a committee of experts, points out several areas where improvements are needed. These include the collection of garbage, the disposal of sewage, and the maintenance of public buildings.

School Report Not In. The report also mentions the need for a more efficient system for reporting health conditions in schools.

Boy Faints, Falling Into River; Rescued, Tells of Odd Dream

PIKESVILLE, KY., Oct. 22—A remarkable dream experienced while lying unconscious on the bottom of Big Sandy River for more than an hour was related to-day by Gerald Lockhart, aged 12. The lad was fished out of the river, apparently dead, but rescuers brought him back to consciousness. The boy was angered that his dream had been interrupted.

"I fainted," said the boy, "and as I fell into the water I had a pleasant feeling not like when you go to sleep in a bed. I was in a soft cushion seat at a musical concert. It was grand opera, the orchestra played, but it was noisy until it turned into a circus band and there were performers."

The boy attempted to go back to sleep, and strenuous measures were taken to keep him conscious. It is believed he will recover.

PAGE'S 'THE SOUTHERNER' BITTERLY APPRAISED BY HEAD OF GEORGIA U. D. C.

ATLANTA, Oct. 22.—The nineteenth annual convention of the Georgia Division, Daughters of the Confederacy, was stirred to-day by a statement read by the State president, Mrs. Walter D. Lamar, of South.

Following the reading of the statement by Mrs. Lamar, a parliamentary order was given to prevent discussion of the matter on the floor. Thereafter, a debate that lasted more than an hour was held in the hall. Finally the matter was submitted to a committee which will report to-day when it is expected a final decision will be reached.

Mrs. Lamar's Criticism

Mrs. Lamar's statement was in part as follows: "The South-erner," written by Walter H. Page, is a book which is a bitter and unflattering appraisal of the South and her people that will do more to injure the South than any other book published in the past few years.

HOEL'S GUESTS ARE ROUTED BY NIGHT FIRE

Owner of Building Accuses Former Tenant as Incendiary Because of Grudge.

Following emotional charges of arson made by Jim Brown, who owns the damaged building at Fourth and Walton streets, detectives Wednesday night laid a three-day siege on the building which did between $10,000 and $15,000 damage.

Brown's sons, William, William House No. 2, and the Southern Development Co., who were charged with the arson, were nearly run out of the building by a fire which was started by a gas stove in the kitchen.

Brown charges that he was a victim of a grudge set fire to the building to satisfy a grudge he had been expelled from the place a week ago for non-payment of rent. Detectives have not yet been able to find any evidence that connects the accused with the fire, but they are determined to investigate Brown's accusation.

Brown was discovered at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday morning in the rear of the safe and was taken to a time between 10 and 11 o'clock. He was found in the rear of the safe and was taken to a time between 10 and 11 o'clock.

Half a hundred guests of the Hotel House No. 2, all of whom were arrested by the police, were taken to a time between 10 and 11 o'clock.

Italian Convicted In Courtship Feud To Be Given Parole

Prisoner a free man with the usual restrictions provided under the parole law was issued from the office of the State Prison Commission Wednesday morning following action of Governor Nathan.

Prisoner, a marble worker, was convicted of manslaughter in the fall of 1911 and sentenced to two years. He was assigned to the changing in Charles County.

In connection with the parole of Pranner a pathetic story has come to light. He has a pretty daughter, Laura. He opposed the marriage of a man named Crockett and decided to send the girl back to Italy. It was on the morning that the girl was scheduled to leave that the trouble which put Pranner in the penitentiary occurred. Crockett started a fight in which a man was killed. At that time the evidence was not clear. Pranner was convicted of the crime.

NEW METHODS IN CITY SANITARY WORK URGED

Survey Report Points Out Defects in Present System—No Individual Blamed.

Admitting that the report of the survey made a survey of health conditions in Atlanta has been made, certain recommendations of changes in the work of the City Health Department, President William L. Moore, of the Chamber of Commerce, vigorously denied yesterday that the dismissal of any member of the board of health is urged, or that they are released individually.

No names are mentioned in that portion of the report we have received, but on the inadequate equipment and facilities with which the health department is provided are required to be better.

The criticism the experts direct against the health department is not based on personal inefficiency of the members, but on the inadequate equipment and facilities with which the health department is provided.

Improvements Urged. It is true that the report recommends the abolition of the present board of health and a reorganization of the entire department. Mr. Moore was asked:

Certain improvements in organization and methods are recommended. It is not the intention of the board to abolish the health department, but to make it more efficient and to make it more of a public health work.

The report of the survey is available to the public. It is a report of the survey of the health conditions in Atlanta, Georgia, made by the Georgia State Board of Health.

INSIDE LIGHTS on GEORGIA POLITICS

By JAMES B. NEVIN

Governor John M. Slaton returned Tuesday from Knoxville, where he was a guest of honor on Monday of the National Conservation Exposition, now being held there.

Monday night the Governor and Mrs. Slaton were entertained, with thirty at dinner by Colonel and Mrs. Robert J. Lowry, of Atlanta. Colonel Lowry has the success of the Knoxville show very much at heart, and has done a great deal to further his material as well as its sentimental interests.

Governor Slaton speaks in the highest terms of praise of the exposition. "The Knoxville show is one of the most interesting I ever saw," said the Governor today. "It is beautiful and instructive. It displays to great advantage the matchless resources of this entire section, and while it is large enough for all purposes, it is not so large that it grows the least bit monotonous in any particular."

The attendance, too, thus far has been very gratifying, and I have no doubt whatever that the results of the exposition will be abundant, significant and far-reaching.

Colonel Lowry's dinner was of course, in every way a most delightful occasion. He is a good Georgian, and he has a good deal to say about the state of affairs in Georgia.

"The more I see of expositions," said the Governor, "the more I am inclined to believe that the state of Georgia is in a very bad way."

He then went on to say that the state of Georgia is in a very bad way, and that the state of Georgia is in a very bad way.

He then went on to say that the state of Georgia is in a very bad way, and that the state of Georgia is in a very bad way.

SEES NEW EFFORT TO INDICT WATSON TRIES TO FULFILL HIS VOW TO SLAY

McLendon Asks Judge to Question Grand Jury—Foster Says "Stick Around."

ATLANTA, Oct. 22.—S. G. McLendon, counsel for Thomas E. Watson, today informed Judge Foster in Federal court that he understood the grand jury would attempt to re-indict Mr. Watson on a charge of sending obscene matter through the mails, and asked the judge to recall the grand jury and ascertain if any of them had produced against Mr. Watson.

The court declined to recall the grand jury on the ground that Mr. Watson's counsel had no right to anticipate an act of the body. Mr. McLendon was informed by the court that if the grand jury brought in an indictment he would then have occasion to enter protest if he desired to make one.

"The best advice I can give you," said the court, "is to stick around. The grand jury did take up the Watson case to-day, and whether or not an indictment is found will be known by to-morrow."

The district attorney will present evidence as to the alleged obscenity of Mr. Watson's writings, taken not only from his monthly magazine, but his weekly as well.

BRIDGEPORT, OHIO, Oct. 22.—Bridgeport has one ardent admirer of the New York Giants, and just to prove it he is obliged to wear a straw hat all this winter, zero weather not excluded.

SAVANNAH, Oct. 22.—Largo Rouse, a white man, who, when convicted three years ago for having the name of J. H. Quinte, his employer, took an oath to murder Quinte when he was released, tried to carry out this threat this morning, the day after his liberation.

Having a knife in a pocket in his home, Mr. Quinte opened the door and found Rouse crouching behind it with a long knife in his hands. He leaped upon him and into the room where her husband was dressing Quinte, a powerful man, knocked his assailant down with a chair and severely bound him. He then called the police.

Rouse released his threat that when again liberated he would have Quinte's life.

Knowing Your Store Has Much To Do With Successful Shopping

And now that the eager days have come when it seems that everything must be done at once, since the children must have warm clothes for school wear.

—and your own new suit just must be selected. —and the hat to go with it. —and these nights are cold, woolly blankets are very necessary things.

—the home must be "dressed up" a bit, too. Indeed it is well to know your store when there is so much to be done.

And the right-thinking woman does not want any of these things done in a make-shift fashion. So the right-thinking woman will do well to depend upon Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Company!

Ours is a store where best effort goes into every transaction. First the merchandise is selected expertly and carefully.

Varieties and quantities are meant to give satisfactory choice to all. They are as great as good taste and worth will permit.

There Is a Mink Coat Valued at $2,000 Displayed in the Window

It is a wonderful example of the furrier's art, the skins are perfectly matched. There is a notable set of genuine red fox. A mink coat of rare beauty, a Russian sable set that is a symphony.

These furs are from Revillon Freres who have been the world's greatest furriers since 1723.

And now comes a year when furs are in as great demand, we venture, as in any year of this nearly two centuries of furnishing.

The Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co. fur section reflects this tendency. There are coats and sets and separate pieces here in the new fashions, and every piece bears its own name.

We will not allow you to be deceived about any piece, of fur we show you.

Suits That Women Seem To Like

After all, that is the whole test! We may tell the many details of our experiences in selecting suits, our care, our eagerness to get the right styles, the makers we go to and all that, but the whole question is summed up in the fact that Women seem to like the suits we are showing.

Some are kind enough to tell us they are the smartest in town, and numbers are proving that they think so by their purchases. The privilege we seek is to show you, not to tell you here what this style is and that fabric is—no word pictures—but the suits as they are, how they look on you, how they fit, how they are fashioned, what the materials and the trimmings.

These are the to be seen to be appreciated things—and these are the days, too.

The "Becomingest" Hats Here in Atlanta Are From Estelle Mershon

If it were necessary to offer any other proof of the fact than that which a trip to the millinery section gives, we would say that the very fact that these hats are fresh from America's style center, which in turn is very, very close nowadays to the world's style center.

Indeed, Estelle Mershon, 20 E. 46th Street, New York, is a Paris shop transplanted. We receive hats from Estelle Mershon almost daily, to the end that the women of Atlanta may choose from styles that are absolutely authentic, superlatively smart—we say this although usually we are not given to the practice of using "ests" and "mosts" in our advertising.

Nothing else will do. Agents for Butterick Patterns and Publications.

ELECTIONS WILL BRING CRISIS IN MEXICO

Neither of Five Candidates Can Get Majority October 26, So Huerta Will Remain Dictator.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. MEXICO CITY, Oct. 21.—(Associated Press.)—The presidential election will be held on October 26, as scheduled. This means Huerta will remain in office after the date.

There are five parties in the ball with candidates. In view of the political situation, it is certain that no candidate can receive a majority. The constitution requires that the successful candidate must receive a majority.

It is expected that the crisis in the relations between Mexico and the United States will come upon after the election. Announcement will be made of a new President, and Huerta will continue in office as commander-in-chief.

The parties in the field and their principal candidates are: Catholic, Francisco Gamboa, Politista, Felix Diaz, Labor, Progressive, United States, Puente, Anti-Revolution, Vanguard, etc.

Radolfo Reyes, former Minister of Justice, would have been nominated by the Republicans, but he is in prison on a charge of sedition. The belief is general that the return of Felix Diaz to Mexico City will be the signal for dangerous times.

With the election but six days off, few actual preparations have been made for balloting on a successor to Huerta. The election machinery throughout practically the entire republic is controlled by Huerta's military governors.

Foreigners Flee Mexico.

Seven strikes by fear of a war with the United States have caused the flight of many foreigners from Mexico. Spanish, French, German and English citizens are leaving Mexico as rapidly as possible. Some of the Americans who have fled here in the last 48 hours, but other foreigners who had thought of leaving, believing that they were safe until word was received that many of their fellow countrymen were being held as hostages by the rebels at Toluca, also are fleeing.

The foreigners are alarmed by the return of the report that the United States intends to recognize the Carrancistas as belligerents. They were further alarmed by dispatches telling of a revolution, sent by General Carranza to Los Angeles, Cal., to which he declared that he would not remain in Mexico while Huerta or any other political party remained in power.

Merchants Arrived.

Huerta's action in ordering $5 per cent tariff increase has caused considerable consternation among merchants, many of whom say they will have to go out of business. The cost of living, which now is higher than ever before, will be heavily increased by the tariff increase.

The order was issued by Huerta, acting in place of Congress, and approved by him as President.

TROLLEY MODERN LOCHINVAR'S WAY

Schoolgirl of Sixteen and Sweetheart Flee to Marietta and Wed When Her Parents Object.

Young Lochinvar and the prospective Mrs. L. are getting ready today in a short time to elope.

They take a trolley car and still travel in the night, and a delicious sense of danger twister in the breasts of the elopers.

There was Miss Jean McMillan, now called Miss here because she was so named to her Mrs., although she was just a very pretty little girl, 16 years old, in the eighth grade of the Atlanta Free School.

Miss Jean lived at No. 118 Simpson street, and J. R. Harris lived at the home of a sister, No. 424 Ashby street. That was yesterday. Now both live at No. 470 Ashby street, for the time being, at any rate.

It seems the youthful Lochinvar whose modern name is Harris, had been calling on Miss Jean for a year. Part of it was all serious. Mr. and Mrs. G. L. McMillan, Miss Jean's parents, had no objection to Mr. Harris as a visitor in their home, or as a friend of their daughter. But as a son-in-law well, they considered their daughter was too young to be married.

When Mrs. Harris proceeded to laugh at Lochinvar's who is merely a figure or anything like it.

On the contrary, she went to school quite as usual yesterday. Then she went home, quite as usual. Then she went to the corner of Whitehall and Hunter streets, and there met the young Lochinvar.

Then they boarded the wild and untamed trolley car for Marietta, where they found an available J. P. After which Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lochinvar Harris returned to Atlanta and went out to Mr. Harris' sister's house.

And there they are.

Georgia Archives in Peril of Destruction, Asserts Phil Cook

Secretary of State Phil Cook Tuesday issued a formal warning, asserting the importance of the State preserving the old records which are filed in the Statehouse.

According to Mr. Cook, many of the old records in the State Archives Department are in imminent danger of destruction. Most of the books are so old that they are crumbling and many of the old maps have been rendered practically valueless by excessive handling.

Mr. Cook points out that whereas the State of North Carolina has expended something like $30,000 recently for the preservation of its old records, Georgia is spending less than $1,000 appropriated last year for the purchase of glass cases. A much larger sum is needed immediately, he says.

To Guard Credits Under Money Bill

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(Associated Press.)—The completion of the machine for the new banking and currency system before any part of it is set in operation, will be approved by the House Banking and Currency Committee.

The economic cause of the amendment to the bill is the need of banks for an institution to redempt paper from simultaneously with their transfer of capital to the proposed Federal reserve banks. Otherwise the transfer of these funds will result in a contraction of a contraction of credits and disturbed business.

WHITEHALL GRADE WORK IS RESUMED

Attorney McClelland Announces He Will Appeal Injunction Suit Judge Bell Denied.

Work was resumed on the widening of Whitehall street, between Mitchell street and Trinity avenue, Tuesday morning, as a result of the refusal of Judge Bell to grant a permanent injunction against the project.

Chairman Shelby Smith, of the County Commission, said that if weather conditions were favorable the county would complete the part of the work within three weeks.

The State of North Carolina has expended something like $30,000 recently for the preservation of its old records, Georgia is spending less than $1,000 appropriated last year for the purchase of glass cases. A much larger sum is needed immediately, he says.

Mrs. Rivers' Ark—In a letter from this place Mrs. J. M. Rivers says: "If it had not been for Cardui the woman's tonic, no doubt I would have been in my grave."

"I was sick all of the time for ten years, and took medicines constantly. I suffered terribly. At last I decided I would just try Cardui on my own hook, and kept it a secret. It was a certain Godsend to me. When taking it I have no pain whatever, feeling good, and can breathe with my 15-year-old son. In fact I don't feel over 15 myself. Am as happy as a lark. When I began taking Cardui I weighed 112 pounds and am going to continue taking Cardui until I weigh 135."

"I just can't say enough for Cardui, and I believe if all women who suffer from womanly troubles would take it, there would be more happy homes."

Using Cardui is no experiment. It has stood the most severe of all tests the test of time. Cardui has been known over half a century and in its time has benefited more than a million women. It is composed of purely vegetable ingredients, which have been found to build up the vitality, tone up the nerves and strengthen the woman's constitution. It is a perfect safety tonic for all women.

THE ROMANCE OF THE DIAMOND BY LOUIS TRACY

A THRILLING STORY OF A MODERN CRISTO

TO-DAY'S INSTALLMENT
Mr. Abington received him with some degree of reserve. The magistrate could not understand the receipt of a letter bearing the address of the Pall Mall Hotel, a place where he had been entertained at dinner occasionally by one of his wealthy friends, but which was far removed from the limit imposed on the pocket of any man whose resources depended on the exercise of an ordinary profession.

But Philip still figured in his mind as a vagrant child. Not even the slight police magistrate could picture him as the actual owner of millions of pounds worth of portable property. Hence, the boy's appearance now told in his favor. Curious impressions soon yielded to positive enlightenment when Philip began to relate his story faithfully from beginning to end, and, moreover, exaggerating nor suppressing any salient detail save the actual locality where the astounding adventures found their center and genesis.

"In what manner?"
"You hinted, at our last meeting that some one might lay claim to my diamonds on the ground that they had found on their property. I did not intend that any one living, except your self, should ever hear the history of my misadventure, but I thought it best to lay the place outright in the first instance, and then devote it to a charity which I intend to found in memory of my mother."

"Your confidence is very flattering," said I. "I suppose you took up your quarters at the Pall Mall Hotel in order to impress people with your importance and secure instant compliance with your wishes?"
"That was my motive, sir," replied Mr. Abington. "I want you to do your best to serve me. Of course, you have not sought this interview and told me your story so unreservedly without an ulterior object in view. You see, I am beginning to understand you already a little better than when we first met."

"I don't think, sir, that I am so much an extraordinary boy as a boy who has been plucked into an extraordinary position. I hope most sincerely that you will do what I ask. If I may say so, without presumption, it will be a good thing for you. I suppose a man who looks after millions of money is entitled to a vastly bigger income than one who sits in a police court dealing with offenses against the law."

"The Real Boy."
"Such has certainly been my experience," said the magistrate, who appeared pleased because Philip hinted at a good deal about his conducting the case of the King of Diamonds.
"Then you agree," said Philip, joyously, "that I am a very important person?"
"Not so fast, my youthful friend. Even a police magistrate must know how to be a little bit of a realist. I don't know how it is, but I don't think you are worth much more than a good deal of money. You will remain to dinner."

He was that proof. If good was wanting Philip was a millionaire man in times over.

True to Nature.
Three American artists were telling their tales about their work.
"The other day," said one, "I paid out a little deal about in imitation of marble with such accuracy that no being thrown into the water it would sink to the bottom."
"I don't think so," said another. "Yesterday I hung my thermometer on the wall supporting my leg of the Polar region. It fell at 50 degrees below freezing point."

Choice of Colors

One of the most important matters in dress is the choice of color. There are certain elementary principles to be observed in the selection of different combinations. Red is usually becoming to a distinct brunette and to those of less positive coloring. It shows a rosy color to pale complexion and intensifies the color of dark eyes or short-shell-pink hair. Red should be avoided by any one with a florid complexion, green, white, cream or black are best for those with florid complexion.

Green is one of the most charming of colors. It is almost universally becoming and its beauty is evidenced by nature's palette. It is the color of the sea, of the sky, of the earth, of the flowers, of the fruit. It is the color of life, of health, of vigor. It is the color of the young, of the beautiful, of the happy. It is the color of the sun, of the moon, of the stars. It is the color of the world, of the universe, of the God.

Advice to the Lovelorn
By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:
I am twenty and in love with a young lady who reads me a love letter every day. I am not financially equipped to get married for five years, as I am not financially equipped. Do you think it proper for me to keep her waiting, as she fears my love will grow cold at the expiration of five years?

CERTAINLY NOT.
I have kept company with a young man three years and have not married him. I have some points in etiquette. I have known him three months and like him very well. Would it be proper for me to keep him waiting for five years?

Tech Coach Reviews Saturday's Big Gridiron Battles
HEISMAN SIZES UP THE FOOTBALL SITUATION

By J. W. Heisman.

LAST Saturday I journeyed up to Chattanooga to see for myself just what kind of a ball team the Volunteers could put on the field. Their opponents were the Mountain Tigers from Seawater, and I had just a minute of curiosity concerning them as well.

Both teams were accompanied by hundreds of hours, so they did not lack for inspiration. The crowd was large, and enthusiasm was high. Tennessee was doing confident of winning, and so, for that matter, was Seawater, because the latter did not make quite as much fuss about their happy state of mind.

Well, both teams were well, all right. They must have been well over 170 pounds each. The weight of the two teams seemed about as heavy as I had ever seen.

The Volunteers have played, made big strides during the past week of practice, and I think they will be surprised if they gave Virginia a hard time.

TICK Palmer, the famous credit for holding the brilliant Auburn team from three touchdowns, I am not by any means think that Alabama is strong as Auburn, and therefore is to do well against Auburn or they did not against Alabama.

Alabama was an advance during the past week for Clemson. Probably Auburn was a point or two overconfident before the game, and then the fact that the Tigers were defeating their own heartbeats raised some, but all the of getting to go on the football they learned from Seawater, they will make it hot for all comers remaining on their schedule.

TICK Red and Black returned over the Red and White, and did it by a better score than I had anticipated. But when Alabama was well, as badly as they were, I was not sure that I was not right.

Deep to the rumors that Packer McFarlane's retirement, it is safe to say that he never will quit the game as long as he has Tommy Murphy to fight.

The rumor that Red Nelson is to leave Clemson is a cash reveals the fact that men actually have in pay lists in Heisman.

One strong argument against the Pied League is that Horace Pugh is for it.

"The American League outstages the National," says Garry Hermann, but it is not so. The National is not so. The National is not so. The National is not so.

It is rumored that Charlie Ebbets will sign another manager, possibly in order to have something new to dedicate next spring.

Thus far Nate Lewis, who said Knickerbocker for $5, has not been picked for obtaining money under false pretenses.

Not wishing to arouse any baseball scrips from his library, but it is high time to announce that Joe O'Brien will be next president of the National League.

to change as well as those of Seawater. It was a good, light battle, with Seawater showing clean-cut, even if slightly superior all the way. The Volunteers were outplayed, but not at all outclassed, and if they will give their bellies another tug and go into their routine game with the idea more it shows that "Clemson is going to hang on to the bitter end."

It is likely Auburn did not open its eyes and empty it of all it contained in the way of plays and resources, for it is possible that it will do that until she meets the "Clemson" on November 12. It probably will not be necessary for it to do so. I still say, "Look out for Auburn!"

THE Commodore won again, and by a spooly score. But so little is known of Henderson in these parts that I cannot undertake a guess as to whether they did well or ill. If Vanderbilt were to be called upon right now to face Auburn or Michigan or Virginia I do not doubt it would go to defeat.

Alabama was a defeat of a game with Seawater also if played today. They claim to be worrying about this, while the latter will keep them disappointed for a while.

Of these days, I do not think the fears of Tennessee are well founded. I look to see the Vanderbilt team come along rather faster than most of the Southern squads from now on, and it may be that they will weather the November games well. I have doubts.

LAUREA made a fine impression with her big score against Maryville. It compared in complimentary with that of Vanderbilt and that of Tennessee against the same team, and it indicates that Tech is holding its own against a tough proposition at Jacksonville Saturday.

IT DID not see the Mercer Tech game, but I understand Mercer showed a greatly improved brand of football over Edlin in a right-round bout here.
